Aldila's NV[®] helps WGC-Accenture Match Play Champ earn first PGA victory
'The Hottest Shafts In Golf' wins wood and hybrid shaft counts at Mayakoba Classic, hybrid count at WGC

POWAY, Calif. – Using Aldila's NV[®] the winner of the World Golf Championships-Accenture Match Play Championship captured his first PGA Tour title by winning his sixth match in five days and his first title on American soil. The victory launches him in to fourth place in the FedEx Cup Standings and into fifth place in the Official World Golf Rankings.

In fact, Aldila is no stranger to the top of the FedEx Cup standings this year as five of the Top 10 players currently use their shafts including the leader.

Across the PGA Tour, "The Hottest Shafts In Golf" maintained their stronghold as the #1 shaft on Tour by winning the wood and hybrid shaft manufacturer counts at the Mayakoba Golf Classic. They also won the hybrid count at the WGC-Accenture Match Play Championship by a 2-to-1 margin over the next leading shaft manufacturer, according to the Darrell Survey.

"It's great to see that when given the opportunity, the best players in the world are continuously choosing Aldila for performance they can count on and feel other shaft companies just can't touch," said Stewart Bahl, Aldila's Marketing Manager. "From the incredible touch and feel that the NV delivers to the lower torque and increased tip stability of the RIP, Aldila offers the widest range of performance shafts in the market today to fit the widest range of players."

Aldila has the unique ability to fuse high-end design with cutting edge technology. They are continually on the leading edge of the golf world through their relentless pursuit of the next best innovation. Are you playing Aldila or just graphite?
